NOTHING FURTHER TO SAY UNTIL COUNT

CARTER REGARDS ELECTION
SQUABBLE AS CLOSED.

Mr. Cleage Also Inclined to Let Disputed Matters Settle Themselves.

"I have answered all the accusations made by my opponent, W. B. Cleage, and have nothing further to say, only that I will wait the official count which will show that I have been elected fairly and squarely," said Pinney Carter, successful candidate for the state senate, Friday morning to a few reporters. However, Mr. Carter stated that he would not be counted out or defrauded out of the seat which he had won and if such a thing was tried his opponents would meet with a real, sure-enough fight. Mr. Carter stated that when he ran two years ago he was only beaten by twelve votes and after the count he congratulated his opponent and did so with no ill will or bad feeling and that now he had won he expected his opponent to take his defeat and not cry "fraud." "It doesn't show the proper spirit and manhood," stated Mr. Carter, "to be sore over defeat." Republican leaders will take no step in the charges regarding the failure of ballots to show up at Mowbray and said that this precinct has nothing to do with the election of Mr. Carter.

Mr. Cleage and his friends would not discuss the alleged irregularities in the present election and said they would await the official count and abide by the decision of the election commission. However, the consensus of opinion among both leading democrats and republicans is that Mr. Carter has been elected senator from Hamilton county and will be declared the nominee. The only charge made regarding the vote at Mowbray was technical. McKinley Hays, republican election commissioner, stated that just prior to placing the blank ballots in the Mowbray box they were misplaced several times. He said he then placed the ballots in the box and sent them to Mowbray and when the box got there the ballots were missing. It was then that he and J. B. F. Lowry took some ballots to Mowbray themselves and the election proceeded. It is this that Cleage followers are charging is illegal.

Another phase of the election being discussed is the failure to burn or return the ballots sent to a voting place and not used. It is stated that the law provides that unused ballots be returned to the election commission and be checked as the used ones are. This, it seems, has not been done and when ballots were not used they were left scattered about the voting places.

CORNELIUS R. TERHUNE

Nephew of W. T. Alexander of This City Dies in Rome, Ga.
Cornelius R. Terhune died at Rome, Ga., Thursday, Nov. 7. He was about 68 years old and had lived in Rome all of his life. He was a brother of John St. Terhune, of Nashville, district commercial superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company, and nephew of W. T. Alexander of this city. His death was the result of after effects of influenza. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Susie Bowles, of Rome, to whom he was married in 1880. For many years he was engaged in the hardware business, but had been a commissioner of the city of Rome for three years past.

MANY APPLICANTS

Lieut. Stevens' Recruiting Office Busy as Can Be.
Lieut. Hugh L. C. Stevens, the recruiting officer who is in Chattanooga receiving applications for the Fremont training camp, says that applications are coming in very rapidly. While he has not passed on a large number of those received, he gave out three names Friday which have been passed and sent on to headquarters. They are Robert E. Thomas, of North Chattanooga; James C. Choate, who resides at 103 East Seventh street, and Ed S. Harrison, of the Elks' home. Out of those who are applying are a number of young men between the ages of 18 and 21, and Lieut. Stevens says that out of these there have been some very fine specimens who applied and some who will, no doubt, make the very best of officers. These men are mostly in the class of the select-men.

While here, Lieut. Stevens has his office adjacent to Mayor Littleton's, in the city hall, and expects to be here for at least two weeks.

MUST HAVE PASS TO VISIT AFTER DARK

NEW REGULATION IN FORCE AT OGLETHORPE.

Will Probably Apply to Those in Habit of Attending and Giving Entertainment.
An order has been put into effect at the camps located at Chickamauga park providing that no civilians shall be permitted in the camps after 8 o'clock in the evening or before 8 o'clock in the morning, without a special pass. It is understood that this order was given out from general headquarters the first of the week and was made effective at once.

Just why this new rule has been issued is not known, but it is presumed that it will not affect the public traffic on the main Lafayette road, which passes through the camp. However, no automobiles will be permitted inside of the camps after these hours carrying visitors unless a written pass has been secured. This will, in all probability, make it necessary for those giving and attending entertainments at the camp to obtain special passes with their names filled in and signed by the commanding officer of the particular company or headquarters they expect to visit. These passes are being issued in typewritten form and given out at the various headquarters.

CALL FOR SPECIALISTS

Chance for Clerks and Stenographers
to Do Service in Army.
According to orders received Friday morning by the local draft boards, Tennessee is to furnish 328 special or limited service men during the month of November. The registrants are to be in camp during the three-day period beginning Nov. 25. Three hundred of the limited service men will go to Fort Thomas, Ky. The quota is to be composed of typists, stenographers and general office clerks. Twenty-five registrants are to report to the Washington barracks, Washington, D. C. Those who will be sent to the capital city barracks must be qualified as electricians or isolated plant operators.

Under the caption of mixed call, A-1589, which calls for office men and typists to go to Fort Thomas, the local boards will send twenty-six men.

The quotas of the boards are as follows: Hamilton county board No. 1, 4; Hamilton county board No. 2, 8; city board No. 1, 6; city board No. 2, 7. Mixed call A-1583 orders the local boards to entrain three men qualified as electricians or isolated plant operators for the Washington barracks during the three-day period beginning Nov. 25. The quotas of the local boards are as follows: County board No. 1, 4; city board No. 1, 6; city board No. 2, 7.

PLACED ON WAR BASIS

Dan Cupid Does Thriving Business—He Exemplifies Few and Drafts Many.
Now-a-days marriages are made in heaven and in haste. It didn't take Dan Cupid long to climb up on Mars' band wagon and place his love factory on a strictly war basis. While every one was worrying about how to speed up industry, that old institution of marriage thrust itself into high and went over the top. Dan Cupid's motto that there is a woman born every minute and a man to catch her seems to be proved conclusively, during these war times and the marriage license books in the office of the county clerk will bear true witness to this fact. The way with which marriage has resumed a war basis has been a hard blow to reformers who used to write pamphlets and demand uniform laws and get all excited. But Cupid says that marriage is for those that marry and not for those who reform.

The records in the office of the county clerk show that the past month 118 souls plunged into the sea of matrimony with a determined desire to sink or swim, survive or perish as best they know how. So far this month, there have been twenty-two marriages licensed, which shows that the incoming month is not going to be outdone by the preceding one. However, the promised end of the war makes business look somewhat gloomy for Dan Cupid, because it is the uniform out of which the little love lord has made much capital.

ASKS FOR EXTRA DEPUTY

Sheriff Bass finds He Cannot Do Efficient Work With Limited Force.
Sheriff Robert P. Bass, through his attorney, P. Pope Shepherd, has filed a petition with county Judge Sam A. Conner, asking for an extra criminal deputy. Sheriff Bass says in the petition that he is unable to do the work now developing on him with the small number of deputies he has. Since going into office Mr. Bass has worked hard with the few deputies the law allows him, and court officials say that he has done unusually well. On a large number of occasions, Sheriff Bass himself has been called on to assist in some of the court work. However, he says that what he is there for and continues to serve the public as best he can. It is thought that Judge Conner will allow the extra deputy asked for.
